

Hi!

My name is Australopithecus africanus, and I am one of the hominins. While I was an omnivore, I sometimes ate a little meat for fun! If you have heard of the Taung Child remains, that was from my species! I lived mostly in savannahs and woodlands and was bipedal. I also used sticks and bones as tools to help me throughout my life. I might have used some basic stone tools, but we aren't too sure. Make sure you read up on the other hominins, they are pretty cool too!
